A long time ago in a galaxy far, far away...
1. Generational Change
Generational Change

- If only the youngest cohort in society changes (and then persists in that new direction throughout their own life cycle), society as whole changes inexorably but almost imperceptibly, like a massive supertanker changing course.
- If the differences between one generation and the next are small, then generationally based social change will be real (and significant) but very slow.
- If for some reason a younger generation deviates substantially from its predecessors, then the aggregate social change may be quick—significant over a few decades.
Generational Change

1. Increasing number of “Nones”
2. Increasing number of “Spiritual but not Religious”
3. Accepting and embracing diversity: cultural, religious, sexual, and in family structures
4. Declining participation in Sunday worship and sacraments/rites of passage (marriage, baptism)
5. Living together, marrying later, and having children later
6. Declining levels of family faith practice & socialization

Generational Change

- Significant Generational Change began in the early 1990s among the younger generations and is influencing society and the older generations
- These trends are having a significant impact on a Life Cycle approach to faith formation and church life, in general.

fewer marriages – marrying later – fewer baptisms – fewer young families lower Sunday worship attendance........
4 Scenarios

1. Will trends in U.S. culture lead people to become more receptive to organized religion, and in particular Christianity or will trends lead people to become more resistant to organized religion and Christianity?

2. Will people’s hunger for and openness to God and the spiritual life increase over the next decade or will people’s hunger for and openness to God and the spiritual life decrease.

Youth

Young Adult

Typology of Adolescent Religiosity

- Abiders: highest levels of religiosity and practice: believe in God, pray regularly, engage in personal religious practice, attend services, serve others, think about the meaning of life; most likely to say their religion is the only true faith
- Adapters: high levels of personal religiosity + accepting of other people’s faiths + attend religious services more sporadically
- Assenters: believe in God and feel somewhat close to God, but they are minimally engaged with their faith and practice only occasionally. Religion is tangential to other aspects of their lives.
- Avoiders: believe in God but have low levels of religious practice; God is distant, impersonal; and often don’t name a religious affiliation.
- Atheists: don’t believe in God and don’t attend services.
Typology of Emerging Adult Religiosity

- Committed Traditionalists: strong religious faith; articulate beliefs; actively practice. Personal commitment to faith is a significant part of their identities and moral reasoning, and they are at least somewhat regularly involved in some religious group.

- Selected Adherents: believe and perform certain aspects of their religious traditions but neglect and ignore others; more discriminating about what they are willing to adopt of their religious tradition's beliefs and practices.

- Spiritually Open: not very committed to a religious faith but are nonetheless receptive to and at least mildly interested in some spiritual or religious matters.

Typology of Emerging Adult Religiosity

- Religiously Indifferent: neither care to practice religion nor oppose it; simply not invested in religion either way; too distracted with and invested in other things in life and unconcerned with matters of faith to pay any real attention to religion.

- ReligiouslyDisconnected: have little to no exposure or connection to religious people, ideas, or organizations; neither interested in nor opposed to religion. Faith simply has not been a part of their lives in any significant way.

- Irreligious: hold skeptical attitudes about and make critical arguments against religion generally, rejecting the idea of personal faith.
What could a 21st century approach to faith formation look like?

- How would we address the diversity of people’s religious and spiritual needs today?
- How would we engage people? How would we reach people?
- What technologies would we use?
- What resources would we access?

GIVE THEM SOMETHING TO EAT!
(Matthew 14:13-21; Luke 9:11-17; 1 Peter 2:23)

13 When Jesus heard this news, he was in a boat and went to a lonely place by himself to pray. 14 And when the people heard it, they went out after him on foot from all directions. 15 Jesus got out of the boat, and when he saw the crowd, he had compassion for them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd. 16 So he began to teach them many things. 17 And when it was evening, there was still a great deal of the crowd, and they had nothing to eat. 18 Then his disciples came to him and said, “This is a lonely place, and it is now late in the day. 19 Send the people away so they can go to the surrounding villages and buy food for themselves.” 20 But he answered, “You yourselves give them something to eat.” 21 They said to him, “It is already four o’clock in the afternoon. What is there to do for them here?” 22 And he asked them, “How many loaves of bread do you have? Go and see.” And they counted, 23 and said, “We have five loaves and two fish.” 24 Saying this, he吩咐 the disciples to have the people sit down in groups on the grass. 25 So they sat down in groups of fifty each. 26 Then he took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven he blessed them and broke them and handed them to the disciples to set them before the people. 27 And the disciples gave to the people as much as each one had. 28 And when they had all eaten, they collected what was left over and filled twelve baskets with them. 29 And those who ate were about five thousand men, besides women and children. 30 And when he had sent the people away, he got into the boat to go to the other side of the sea, but his disciples followed him after they had got into a boat by themselves, following him. 31 When he had gone a little way, he saw them — he was already far from land — and he began to speak to them, “I am here; don’t be afraid.” 32 Then they were filled with great joy and were amazed at his great power. 33 And when they reached the other side of the sea, they came to land at Gennesaret. 34 And when the man of the house saw Peter and Andrew, and James and John, who were fishing, 35 he said to them, “Don’t catch any more.” 36 So they came and led Jesus into the house. And when they saw the centurion and those who were with him and saw the great multitude, they became afraid. 37 And they spoke to one another, saying, “Who has done this? 38 For he even commands the demons and they obey him.” 39 And the news about him spread rapidly all over Judea and all the surrounding region.

Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

More about the Gospel for August 17th, 2014

Your family life is a ministry.

How does your family participate in the life of the Church? Dispute was in which you seek to reach out to your neighbors and people in need through acts of kindness, mercy, and justice. Then read together today’s Gospel, Matthew 14:13-21. Talk about how Peter worked to bring Jesus, to speak to others in Jesus’ words. What did you do? It is important to note that Peter was successful — for a time. When he doubted Jesus, though, he was driven into the water. Talk about how your family’s acts of mercy and justice are rooted in your faith in Jesus. Play together that Jesus will continue to work through your family to prepare the salvation of the world.
