Wondering. . . .

- What does a vibrant and vital family faith look like in a 21st century world?
- How do we meaningfully engage/connect with today's families?
- How do we empower/equip/resource families to transmit faith at home - to practice a vital and vibrant faith?
- How do we reach families who are not involved in a faith community or feel religion is not important?

Our starting point . . . Families at the Center

Seeing the home as the essential & foundational environment for faith nurture, faith practice, and the healthy development of young people.

Building faith formation around the lives of the today's families and parents, rather than having the congregation prescribe the programs and activities that families will participate in.

Our Family – A Film about Diversity

Which families do you want to keep in prayer this week?

LET US LIFT UP THESE FAMILIES IN PRAYER.

Meeting Each Other

1. Share your name/setting/responsibility.
2. Share one of the joys of your ministry today.
3. Share the family/families you are praying for this week.

WHAT'S CHANGING

What's Changing?

- 1. Diversity of Family Forms: No single family arrangement encompasses the majority of children today.
 - ✓ Two-parent, married couple households are on the decline.
 - ✓ Children and adolescents live in a variety of family arrangements that change and evolve over the course of a child's life.

What's Changing?

2. Generational Diversity: Gen X Parents (mid 30s-mid 50s) and Millennial Parents (20s-mid 30s)

- Generational approaches to parenting and family life
- Gen X parents approach child-rearing as a set of tangible practices that will keep their children safe, reasonably happy, well-behaved, and ready to take on life's challenges. They practice protective parenting.
- Millennial parents, reflecting their values of individuality and self-expression, focus more on a democratic approach to family management, encouraging their children to be open-minded, empathetic, and questioning—and teaching them to be themselves and try new things. They are moving away from the overscheduled days of their youth, preferring a more responsive, less directorial approach to activities. (Responsive Parenting)

What's Changing?

3. Ethnic Diversity: A growing diversity of ethnicities and nationalities in society and churches

- Millennial generation is America's most ethnically diverse
- Distinct ethnic identities, histories, religious traditions, and practices
- Distinct needs as a family

What's Changing?

4. Spiritual-Religious Diversity: Parents and families reflect an increasing diversity in religious beliefs, practices, and affiliation.
- 23% of Generation Xers and over 34% of Millennials are not religiously affiliated and the number of unaffiliated Millennials is growing.
 - Families of Generation X and Millennial parents are participating less in church life and Sunday worship. Religion and spirituality may be important to families today, but for many it is not usually expressed by participation in churches

What's Changing?

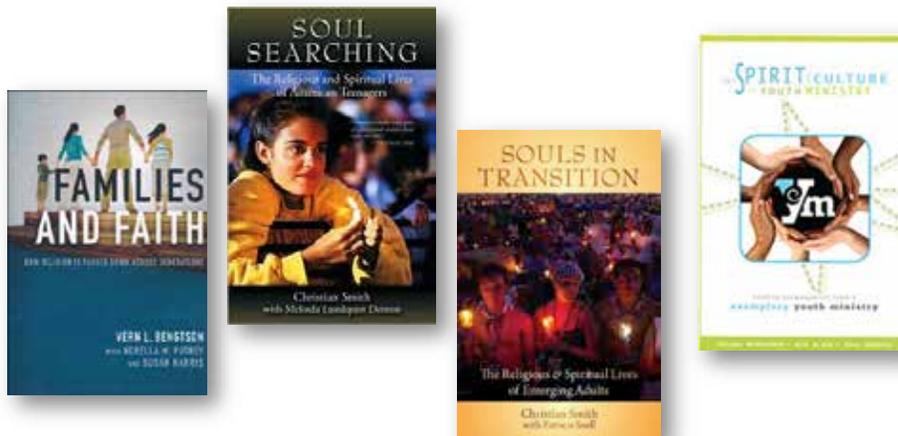

What's Changing?

- Significant indicators, such as religious identification as a Christian, worship attendance, marriages and baptisms in the church, and changing generational patterns, point to a decline in family religious socialization across all denominations.
- There is also a decline in religious traditions and practices at home. Gen X and Millennial parents often lack the religious literacy and religious experiences necessary for faith transmission.

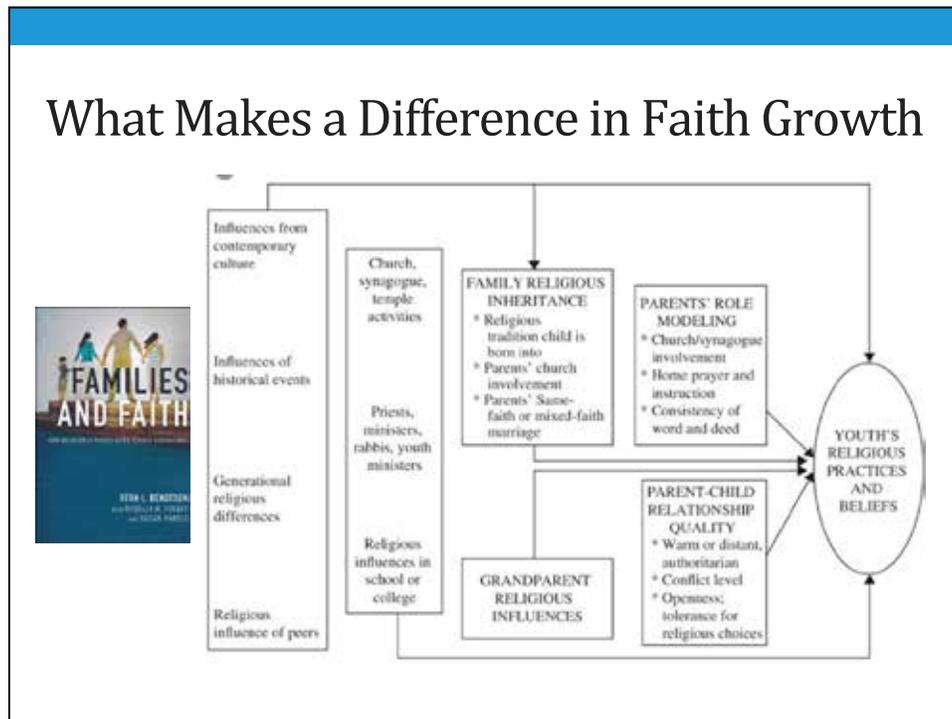

WHAT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

What Makes a Difference in Faith Growth?

What Makes a Difference in Faith Growth

What Makes a Difference in Faith Growth?

1. Parents' personal faith and practice
2. Parent-child relationship: close, warm
3. Parents' modeling and teaching a religious faith
4. Parents' involvement in church life and Sunday worship
5. Grandparents' religious influence & relationship
6. Religious tradition a child is born into
7. Parents of the same faith
8. Family conversations about faith
9. Family religious practices: prayer, reading the Bible, service to others, celebrating holidays/rituals

What Makes a Difference in Faith Growth?

Effective religious socialization comes about through embedded practices; that is, through specific, deliberate religious activities that are firmly intertwined with the daily habits of family routines, of eating and sleeping, of having conversations, of adorning spaces in which people live, of celebrating the holidays, and of being part of a community. Compared with these practices, the formal teachings of religious leaders often pale in significance. Yet when such practices are present, formal teachings also become more important."

(Robert Wuthnow, Growing Up Religious).

What Makes a Difference in Faith Growth?

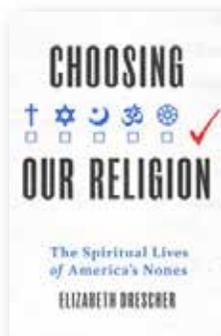

1. Eating together – especially the power of Sunday meals and holidays
2. Praying – bedtime rituals and prayer, grace before meals
3. Having family conversations
4. Displaying sacred objects and religious images, especially the Bible
5. Celebrating holidays
6. Providing moral instruction
7. Engaging in family devotions and reading the Bible

What Makes a Difference in Faith Growth?

The daily round of family activities must somehow be brought into the presence of God. Parents praying, families eating together, conversations focusing on what is proper and improper, and sacred artifacts are all important ways in which family space is sacralized. They come together, forming an almost imperceptible mirage of experience.

(Robert Wuthnow, Growing Up Religious)

Practices & Everyday Life

- Everyday experiences are the core resources of spiritual narratives, even for those affiliated with traditional religious institutions
- “The 4Fs” of contemporary spirituality: Family, Friends, Food, and Fido.
- “People feel most connected to whatever they understand as God, the divine, a Higher Power when they’re deeply engaged in the fabric of everyday life, spending time with family, with friends, preparing and sharing food, enjoying their pets.”

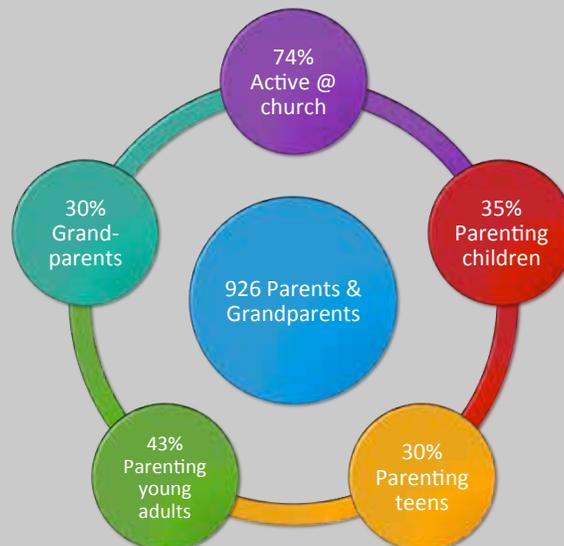

Practices & Everyday Life

Spiritually meaningful practices:

1. enjoying time with family
2. enjoying time with friends
3. enjoying time with pets or other animals
4. preparing and/or sharing food/meals
5. praying
6. enjoying nature
7. listening to/playing music
8. enjoying/creating art
9. physical activity/sports
10. yoga and meditation

On the list of 25 items, the last three items were reading/studying scripture, attending worship, and attending a non-worship activity, event or meeting at church.

Transforming Our Narrative: Families at the Center

Seeing the home as the essential & foundational environment for faith nurture, faith practice, and the healthy development of young people.

Building faith formation around the lives of the today's families and parents, rather than having the congregation prescribe the programs and activities that families will participate in.

Transforming Our Narrative: Families at the Center

The Family-at-the Center Approach recognizes that parents and the family are the most powerful influence for virtually every child and youth outcome—personal, academic, social, and spiritual-religious; and that parents are the most important influence on the social and religious lives of children, youth, and emerging adults. Given the central role of families in shaping the lives of children and youth, the value of engaging, supporting, and educating families should be self-evident to all of us.

What's Your Congregation's Approach to Families?

Identify your congregation's approach with families using the following questions. (See Chapters 1 and 3 in Families at the Center of Faith Formation for background.) For each question, identify your congregation's current practice with parents and/or families using the rating scale:

1 = not at all 3 = often 5 = a lot.

Transforming Our Narrative: The Family as School of Discipleship

It is in the domestic household that we eat, sleep, bathe, get dressed, relax and converse with others. In the context of the household we learn basic social conventions, from table manners to the demands of hospitality toward guests. In the household we learn how to be accountable for our lives; we learn when we are expected for dinner (or to prepare dinner); we learn what chores and other miscellaneous responsibilities are assigned to us and how the smooth functioning of the household depends on the fulfillment of those chores and responsibilities. More importantly, in many households we learn about the possibilities for committed, appropriately vulnerable relationship with others and the privileges and responsibilities that those relationships bring. It is in this nexus of patterned relationships which constitutes the household that we can better understand the image of the Christian household as a "school of discipleship."

God in Daily Life

How can we discover God and the sacred in the rhythms and practices of everyday life? God is truly present to us each day, and this presence is discovered in the fabric of our lives - our experiences, our relationships, and more. We use all spiritual things. We can discover the spiritual in our everyday lives, and recognize, understand, and respond to God's presence in each day. Here are four daily practices to help you discover God:

1. Reading God in your day through the daily Epistle.
2. Helping children feel God through bedtime reflection.
3. Discerning the sacred each day through the FACTS.
4. Reading God through photos.

1. Discovering God in Everyday Life

Spirituality “may be the name for a longing for more meaning, more feeling, more connection, more life. When I hear people talk about spirituality, that seems to be what they are describing. They know there is more to life than what meets the eye. They have drawn close to this ‘More’ in nature, in love, in art, in grief. They would be happy for someone to teach them how to spend more time in the presence of this deeper reality. . . .”

“ . . . the last place most people look is right

accidents, and encounters in their lives. . . .the reason so many of us cannot see the red X that marks the spot is because we are standing on it”.

1. Discovering God in Everyday Life

. . . . To make bread or love, to dig in the earth, to feed an animal or cook for a stranger—these activities require no extensive commentary, no lucid theology. All they require is someone willing to bend, reach, chop, stir. Most of these tasks need to complicate things by calling them holy. And yet these are the same activities that change lives, sometimes all at once and sometimes more slowly, the way dripping water changes stone. In a world where faith is often construed as a way of thinking, bodily practices remind the willing that faith is a way of life.”

HI-life Gatherings...

Sharing a Single Meal Together
The cooking, just come and enjoy
 All a typical Gathering time are indicated by posters in the Hospitality Room and executed in a table in the Fellowship Hall to enjoy a meal with all the participants of all ages. It your table there might be a single adult, a family of four, a retired person, or an empty nest couple. There will be a couple of postures on the table to focus our table talk.

Whole Group Opening Experience
Introduction of the topic to be experienced by all ages
 After the meal, everyone returns to the church for an opening prayer and an activity to set the tone for the evening, such as a scripture video segment. Each household receives a FR life Group Kit and leaves to use it throughout the evening.

Exploring the Temple through Age-Specific Learning Activities
 Learning about the same topic according to one's age or stage in life
 Then the group divides into smaller groups for age-specific learning activities. A typical evening might have adults staying in the church for a speaker and group discussion, young adults on Meeting House 5, FTM youth in Meeting House 3, 70+ youth in the Fellowship Room, and parents with young children (approximately ages 3-12) together in the Fellowship Hall. There are handouts for each group to track and guide the learning activities of the evening and trained facilitators to assist the parents and children at each table.

Whole Group Sharing Experience
Closing of the Gathering for all ages
 To conclude our evening, everyone returns to the church to share what has been learned, to pray together, and to be with each other in common learning in home or presentation for the church next to mention which is the focus of the month.
